

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A seat forming member of a child-care instrument comprising:
a seat portion;
a backrest portion; and
5 a body cover extending from both side edges of said seat portion and both side edges of said backrest portion toward the center, and covering said seat portion and said backrest portion.
2. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 1, wherein said backrest portion includes a pair of side walls rising from 10 both side edges thereof, and said body cover extends from the upper ends of said pair of side walls toward the center.
3. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 2, wherein said body cover extends along the pair of side walls and a backrest surface of said backrest portion.
- 15 4. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 1, wherein a front edge of said body cover and a front edge of said seat portion are releasably connected.
5. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 1, wherein said body cover is detachably connected to said seat portion and 20 said backrest portion.
6. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 5, wherein both side edges of said body cover are detachably connected to both side edges of said seat portion and said backrest portion.
7. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim
25 1, an upper edge of said body cover includes a neck portion cut in a horseshoe shape, and upper end connecting portions extending both sideways from upper ends of the neck portion and connected to an upper edge of said backrest portion.
8. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim
30 1, wherein said body cover has a cut portion cut in downward from an upper edge thereof, and parts separated on either side by said cut portion are detachably connected.
9. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim
35 8, wherein said body cover includes a slide fastener extending downward from the center of the upper edge thereof.

10. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 1, wherein said body cover has a neck portion cut from the upper edges thereof in a horseshoe shape, and a periphery of said body cover except for said neck portion is detachably connected to said seat portion and
5 said backrest portion.
11. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 1, wherein said seat forming member is a seat hammock mounted on a body of a baby carriage and forming a seat.
12. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to 10 claim 11, wherein said body cover has a slit for passing a crotch belt and a waist belt mounted on the baby carriage.
13. The seat forming member of a child-care instrument according to claim 12, wherein said body cover has a cut portion cut from the upper edges thereof to the slit for the crotch belt, and parts separated on either
15 side by said cut portion are detachably connected.